

Already on the road to success?

Support for youth and young adults on their way through school and education

A solid education is the cornerstone for a good life!

- But how to start?
- What could be my plan?
- What's the right thing for me?
- How do I achieve my goals?
- Who will help me?

Let experienced people support you free of charge. Whether school or vocational education: Let's find and walk this path together.

Benefit from our honorary 'Bergisch' education-godparents. These are people, who pursue your objectives with you. They are independent and respect you, the way you are. They have work experience and know what to expect during your education. If you want they accompany you all the way from your vocational orientation until the end of your education.

Get on the road to success and get started!
